The 1956 Champions

WELCOME TO THE
KENTUCKY SHORTHORN
FUTURITY SALE

KENTUCKY DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
FRANKFORT

BEN J. BUTLER, COMMISSIONER

February 8, 1957

Again I am honored with the privilege of welcoming the Kentucky National Shorthorn Futurity Show and Sale to Bowling Green, Kentucky, on March 23, 1957.

The fine quality of animals in last year's show was impressive and an indication of our forward strides in the livestock industry. Shows such as this will certainly stimulate our interest and materially aid in raising our standards. The future of Kentucky's Agriculture is somewhat dependent upon our progress in the area of livestock production and we are, therefore, vitally interested in any phase of its promotion.

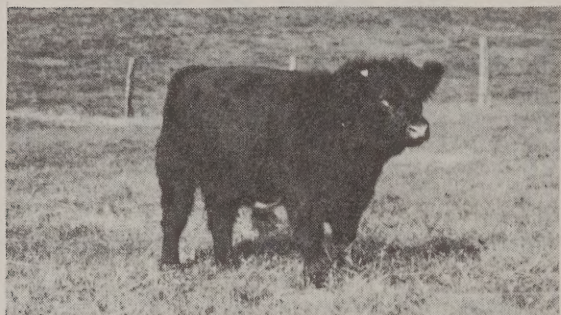

We trust that your stay with us will be pleasant and inspirational. I shall look forward to our visit with you.

Sincerely yours,

Ben J. Butler

Commissioner of Agriculture

U.K. Spotlight, Reserve Grand Champion steer over all breeds, 1955 International Livestock Show, Chicago. Exhibited by the University of Kentucky. Bred by Luther K. Rice, Paris, Ky. Sired by Kirkforther Endeavour. Mr. Rice is selling a number of half-brothers and sisters to this bull in this sale.

A Great Record

Livestock breeders everywhere regard the International Livestock Exposition, held each year in Chicago, as the toughest steer show in the world. Here the greatest steers of all breeds compete against each other. From all of these great steers (approximately 1,000) one steer is crowned the overall champion.

Five times in the last twelve years a Shorthorn has won this coveted honor, including the 1956 grand champion P S Troubadour bred by Acadia Farms, Northfield, Ohio, and exhibited by Pennsylvania State University. This steer sold for a new world's record price of $20.50 per pound.

Four times in the last twelve years a Shorthorn steer has won the Reserve Grand Championship, including the 1955 International reserve grand champion bred by a consignor to this sale, exhibited by another consignor to this sale. He is pictured above.

That Shorthorns are superior beef-makers is without question. That they gain faster, more economically, is known by all who feed them. Shorthorns and Polled Shorthorns are expanding rapidly all over the nation. Help satisfy the increasing demand for Shorthorn blood by purchasing the foundation of a top purebred herd in this sale.

KENTUCKY NATIONAL SHORTHORN FUTURITY SHOW AND SALE

Grand and reserve grand champion females, 1954 Kentucky National Shorthorn Futurity. Exhibited by Hanson Heights Farms, Connersville, Indiana, and Luther K. Rice, Paris, Kentucky. You can own quality females like this by purchasing in this sale.

THE 1957 KENTUCKY NATIONAL SHORTHORN FUTURITY SHOW

9:30 a.m., Saturday, March 23, 1957

Judge: DR. R. A. LONG, Chairman, Dept. of Animal Husbandry and Nutrition, University of Georgia, Athens, Georgia

SALE: 12:30 p.m., Saturday, March 23, 1957

Auctioneer: C. D. SWAFFAR, Tulsa, Oklahoma

Every animal in the show must be sold in the auction

The State of Kentucky, through its Department of Agriculture, has developed a wise and far-sighted program designed to make Kentucky a center for the production and sale of purebred livestock. Each year it sponsors a National show and sale of each of the leading beef breeds. They put up $4,000 in premiums (which is matched by $4,000 from the Kentucky Shorthorn Breeders' Association). They also provide a fund to promote and publicize this event.

It is only natural that such liberal premiums will attract the finest quality cattle into this sale. Regardless of the selling price, breeders are assured of some measure of compensation for bringing their best.

This program has not only stimulated purebred interest, raised the general level of all cattle in the state, but it has attained its objective of making Kentucky a source of supply for cattlemen over a wide area. In the Shorthorn sale alone, nearly a quarter million dollars has been invested over the years by cattlemen of 16 states.

SUTHERLAND CHIEFTAIN - This good, red son of the Perth supreme champion, Drummondreach Advocate, was the junior yearling in our show herd, standing second at the Kentucky State Fair. He made his Indiana Gold Medal weight without a nurse cow, which is a wonderful gain for a January junior yearling. We have mated some of our best heifers to him. A sure breeder, ready for heavy service. His maternal grandsire, Sni-A-Bar Proud Mercury, is a full brother to Sni-A-Bar Randolph. Therefore, this bull combines the top blood of both the U.S. and Scotland.

ALMAHURST BADGER -- One of the very best bull calves from our 1956 calf crop. This calf is too young to sell, but we wanted to put in one of our very best, so here he is. Someone will have the opportunity of buying a top herd sire prospect at a reasonable price. His dam is one of our very best young cows, the breeding record of his sire speaks for itself. This calf is low-set, deep-bodied, deep and thick in the hind quarter, and wearing the head of a stock bull.

The 1957 Kentucky National Shorthorn Futurity Show and Sale

Ask anyone who has ever attended this sale. They will tell you it is one of the top quality offerings of the year. Some entire top herds have been founded almost exclusively on purchases of females in this sale. It has become a source whereby breeders over a wide area have been able to select replacements each year that would go right to the top of their herds. Drive out two or three of your mediocre producers and ship them to market. You will be surprised at how little additional investment you will be required to make to replace them with females of the calibre that will be sold here on March 23. By doing this for just three years . . . and by keeping the daughters . . . you can change your herd into one of the breed's finest.

No good cattleman needs to be told that you are paying for a good bull whether you use him or not. If you are not satisfied with your present herd sire, or if it is time to buy another herd bull, you will be investing your time wisely by attending this sale. There are 18 bulls. Every one was consigned with the idea of shooting for the big premium moneys that lie at the top of Kentucky Futurity classes. Nowhere will you find a better selection of the kind you want to take home.

In the past seven years, 423 head have been sold through this sale for a total of $220,230 or an average of $522. Because of the drop in beef cattle prices, the average in the 1956 sale was $405. This was a slight increase over 1955. The point is that even in times of low beef prices, good quality purebred Shorthorns bring a premium for those who raise them. Yet, you can buy the plant that will produce this premium for you, for a very modest additional investment over the price of ordinary cattle that will always bring just an ordinary return.

LOUADA GRAND DUKE. Purchased by Edellyn Farms, Wilson, Ill., for $3,600 in the 1955 Louada sale. Now a junior herd sire at Edellyn. Sire, Calrossie Armada. Dam, the $3,500 Millhills Secret 10th. Lot 26 has a long service date to this bull. Buy heifers like this and bring them in the fall, with calves at foot, to nationally famous sires that will be worth as much as you will have to give for the mother.

GIPSY BRIDESMAID -- Her sire made a great record in the Caraway herd in Texas. She is out of one of the good Gipsy Bride daughters of Kirkton Gambler that have produced so consistently in the Clear Creek herd. Bred October 28 to Louada Grand Duke, the bull purchased by Edellyn Farms for $3,600 in the 1955 Louada sale. He is a son of Calrossie Armada and out of Millhills Secret 10th that topped the Birmingham sale at $3,500.

TOWALLA LENNIS -- This is the first female calf sired by our herd bull, Mr. Good News. She is very large for her age, good-headed, and altogether a very presentable animal. She is out of one of the best cows we have ever owned and is her last calf. This is the only female out of the old cow that we have ever offered for sale and is offered only because she is the first heifer of Mr. Good News and while she is only ten-months-old, she is the oldest that we have. You will like her size for her age, her conformation and her inheritance.
